y Dr. Filiberto Cruz Sánchez, Dra. Glenis Tavares, Mtro. Pablo A. Gómez, Dra. Reina Rosario Fernández, y Mtro. Eddy de los Santos (Dominican Republic).

Dr. Patricia Galeana presented her semi-annual report, in which she described the activities of the Committees and Working Groups. She also presented the publication of the Chronology of America, result of four years of work by 44 researchers from the Pan American Network, published thanks to the National Autonomous University of Mexico and the Siglo XXI publishing house.

Dr. Galeana also updated the status of the periodical publications of the Commission: Journals, Technical Assistance Projects, Bulletin, and the 2019 "Leopoldo Zea" Award" and the Award for the Best Master's Thesis in Pan American History

Dr. Cristina Oehmichen (Mexico) presented her report as Editor of the Journal of Anthropology of The Americas; those responsible of the 2019 Technical Assistance Projects also described their reports over three sessions. Priority topics for the Commission were discussed in the working groups: the history of migration and the history of climate change, as well as a critical evaluation of the structure of the Pan American Institute of Geography and History and the development of a Pan American historical research agenda.
