

HISTORY COMMISSION'S Bulletin

July 2020 • Bulletin 70

• THE JOURNALS OF THE HISTORY COMMISSION

To study the different historical processes of the American peoples and their current realities, the PAIGH's History Commission contributes to the investigation and divulgation of political, economic, social, cultural, and environmental history, as well as anthropology and archeology, through its periodical publications.

In compliance with Article 9 of the Rules of Procedure for Publications and Documents of the PAIGH¹, the History Commission coordi-

¹Article 9 of the Rules of Procedure for Publications and Documents, of the PAIGH: It shall be the responsibility of each Commission to select the material that is to be published, be it for the journals or for occasional publications. The Chairman of the Commission shall be empowered to appoint the editor and the other members of the editorial committees for the journals of each Commission.

HISTORY COMMISSION

PAN AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF GEOGRAPHY AND HISTORY

nates the edition of the Journal of Anthropology of the Americas, constituted since 1937 as the Bulletin of Anthropology of the Americas; the Journal of History of the Americas, founded in 1938 by Silvio Zavala and one of the oldest specialized publications on the continent, and the Journal of Archaeology of the Americas, established in 1990.

Through the publication of research and analysis articles, as well as field studies and reviews of recent works, these three publications aim to be a space for an academic discussion to generate scientific knowledge about the Americas, and at the same time, contribute to the strengthening of regional identity and promoting interest in the history of the continent as an object of study. Currently, the Journal of Anthropology of the Americas is edited by Dr. Cristina Oehmichen (Mexico), the Journal of History of the Americas by Dra. Alexandra Pita (Mexico), and the Journal of Archaeology of the Americas by Dr. Mario Rivera (Chile).

The Journals of the History Commission spread knowledge on the historical sciences and, together with the other periodical publications of the PAIGH², are a testimony of the multidisciplinary exchange of the Pan American Professional Network from all the member countries.

²Geographic Journal, founded in 1941; Cartographic Journal, 1952; and the Geophysical Journal, since 1971.
