• SILVIO ZAVALA AWARD, 2020 EDITION

On September 25, a decision was reached via on-line meeting among the jury responsible for awarding the 2020 "Silvio Zavala" Prize in Colonial History of the Americas. On this occasion, 13 nominations were received from five different countries: two from Argentina, two from Chile, one from Colombia, two from Ecuador and six from Mexico.

The Jury was comprised by Dr. Filiberto Cruz Sánchez from the Dominican Republic; Dr. André Figueiredo Rodrigues from Brazil; Dr. Estela Morales Campos from Mexico; Dr. María Eugenia Zavala, daughter of the distinguished Mexican historian who was a pillar of this Commission and gives its name to the Prize, and Dr. Patricia Galeana, President of the History Commission.

Unanimously, the members of the Jury declared Dr. Hernán

Dr. Hernán Asdrúbal Silva (Argentina), winner of the "Silvio Zavala" Award in Colonial History of the Americas, 2020 edition.

Silva Asdrúbal (Argentina), the Award recipient for his lifetime achievement in Colonial History of the Americas for his contributions to specialized historiography, through his great work and his tireless academic production.

The members of the Jury also unanimously decided to award two honorable mentions: the first to Dr. René Domingo Millar Carvacho, from Chile, and the second one to Dr. Diego Fernández Sotelo, from Mexico, for the meritorious contributions of their works..

On Wednesday, September 9, 2020, a virtual ceremony was held for the incorporation of Dr. Patricia Galeana, president of the History Commission, as a Foreign Corresponding Member at the National Academy of History of Ecuador. This event was chaired by Dr.

Franklin Barriga López, Director of the institution. Among the guests was Colonel-Ing. Ramiro Pazmiño, president of the National Section of that country.

The Director of the Academy offered the welcoming speech to Dr. Galeana and highlighted the close ties between Ecuador and Mexico. Subsequently, Patricia Galeana presented her entrance speech entitled "México en el horizonte latinoamericano", in which she analyzed the historical evolution of her country in relation to the historical processes of the Americas and highlighted the importance of doing comparative history to locate events in their real dimension, and deepen the knowledge of the history that constitutes the continent or region as a whole.

At the end of her speech, her Excellency the Ambassador of Mexico in Ecuador Dr. Raquel Serur, representing Dr. Galeana, received the institutional emblems from Dr. Barriga.
