HISTORY COMMISSION

PAN AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF GEOGRAPHY AND HISTORY

Section of the Pan American Institute of Geography and History (PAIGH), moderated this event. In her introductory words, she talked about the importance of books “to cure the greatest of evils, which is ignorance”.

Dr. Bolívar Troncoso, President of the National Dominican Section of the PAIGH, congratulated the coordinator for this work which she considers will be very useful, both for historians and geographers, and explained the great significance of having the articles available online to be accessible for a greater number of readers and contribute to the preservation of the environment.

On the one hand, Dr. Patricia Galeana, president of the PAIGH History Commission, enlisted the Technical Assistance Projects that made these investigations possible. She highlighted that within the program she presented at the beginning of her period as President of the Commission, the Atlas Histórico project was a priority. That is why she was pleased it had been implemented thanks to the work of the Historical Cartography Committee, chaired by Dr. Luis Andrés Valenzuela, and research by Dr. Filiberto Cruz Sánchez and Dr. Jorge Ortiz Sotelo.

Luis Andrés Valenzuela Olivares, coordinator of the Committee for Historical Cartography of the PAIGH and coordinator of the first volume of the Atlas Histórico de América about Original Peoples, which was published in 2017, outlined the content of the work.

On the other hand, Dr. Filiberto Cruz Sánchez, coordinator of the second volume of the Atlas Histórico, made the presentation of this new book, giving an account of the different topics covered by the co-authors.

Finally, César Rodríguez, Secretary General of the PAIGH, congratulated Dr. Filiberto Cruz, coordinator of the second volume of the Atlas Histórico, as well as the members of the Committee on Historical Cartography. He emphasized that with works such as the one presented on this occasion, the PAIGH fulfills its mission of bringing people closer to History.

HISTORY COMMISSION'S JOURNALS

The History Commission of the PAIGH publishes three scientific journals: History of the Americas, Anthropology of the Americas, and + Archeology of the Americas.

The Journal of History of the Americas is a publication founded in 1938 by Dr. Silvio Zavala, being one of the oldest specialized magazines on the continent. Its purpose is to generate contimental knowledge, as well as that of each of the countries that make it up. It is a space for academic discussion published every six months, with thematic and miscellaneous editions, reviews, and documents. It is currently edited by Dr. Alexandra Pita (Mexico).

The Journal of Anthropology of the Americas has its antecedent in the American Anthropology Bibliographic Bulletin founded by Dr. Alfonso Caso in 1937. In 1980, Dr. Silvio Zavala created the American Anthropology Bulletin, which was published every semester. Under that title 47 issues were published. It was in 2016 that the Bulletin became a Magazine, under the direction of Dr. Cristina Oehmichen (Mexico).

Since 1990, the PAIGH has published the Journal of Archeology of the Americas annually, being the 39^o issue the most recent one. The magazine, which is divided into four sections including thematic articles, documents, and reviews. It offers updated information of great interest related to the archaeological investigation in the different regions of the continent. The topics selected for publication are those matters of discussion in academic circles and are intended to show the situation in the scene of the Americas. Dr. Mario Rivera (Chile) is the current editor.

The publications of the History Commission have a high impact on the Pan American Network of Historians, Anthropologists and Archaeologists. Articles can be published in the four official languages of the PAIGH: Spanish, English, French and Portuguese. Currently, journals have been incorporated into digital media and are a space for the construction of a regional identity and allow the strengthening of academic and interdisciplinary networks, as well as promoting interest in America as an object of study.
